

COOKIE POLICY

When a User visits or accesses XBO website, the Company uses web beacons, cookies, pixel tags, scripts, tags, API, and other "Tracking Technologies".

These Technologies allow the Company to automatically collect information about Users and their online behavior, as well as their devices, in order to enhance navigation through the Company's Services, improve Service performance, and customize User experience. The Company also uses this information to collect statistics about the usage of its Services, perform analytics, deliver content tailored to User interests, and administer services to Users, customers, and partners.

1. What are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files (composed only of letters and numbers) that a web server places on a User's computer or mobile device when they visit a webpage. When used, a cookie can help make Services more user-friendly, for example by remembering language preferences and settings. Find more information about cookies at www.allaboutcookies.org.

Cookies are widely used to make websites work more efficiently. The use of cookies allows Users to navigate between pages. Cookies remember User preferences and make the interaction between the User and the Services smoother.

2. Tracking Technologies

The Company stores Tracking Technologies when a User visits or accesses its Services (e.g., when visiting the websites); these are called "First Party Tracking Technologies". In addition, Tracking Technologies are stored by third parties (e.g., analytics service providers, business partners, etc.) who run content on the Company's Services; these are called "Third Party Tracking Technologies".

Both types of Tracking Technologies may be stored either for the duration of a User's visit on the Company's Services or for repeat visits.

Tracking Technologies	Type	Purpose
Analytics Cookies	First party Tracking Technology	Performance Tracking Technologies These Tracking Technologies are used to collect information regarding how a User interacts with the content on the Company's Services, for attribution purposes (e.g., referral URL), etc. The Company uses the information to compile reports, calculate revenues due, help improve Services, and offer personalized products and content.
Google Tag Manager	Third party Tracking Technology	Performance Tracking Technologies This cookie is associated with Google Tag Manager which the Company uses to load scripts into its website pages. Google Privacy Policy
Yandex cookies	Third party Tracking Technology	Performance Tracking Technologies These non-personally identifiable Tracking Technologies are used to track how a User engages with Yandex sites and services, so that Yandex can adjust the Company's trading platform to better address Yandex users' needs and preferences. Yandex Privacy Policy
Other cookies	First and Third-party Tracking Technology	Strictly necessary Tracking Technologies These unlisted cookies might be used on internal sections of the Company's Services in order to customize and simplify User experience on the site by remembering choices made and log in credentials.

3. How to manage Cookie settings

Please note that the Company does not recognize or respond to automated browser signals regarding Tracking Technologies, including "Do Not Track" requests. However, there are various ways in which a User can manage and control their cookie settings. Understand that by deleting or blocking cookies, some of the features of the Services may not work properly or as effectively.

Turning off cookies via web browser

Most web browsers will provide a User with some general information about cookies, enabling them to see what cookies are stored on their device, to delete all or some cookies, and to block or allow cookies for all websites or individually selected websites. A User can also usually turn off third-party cookies separately. Please note that the settings offered by a browser or device often only apply to that particular browser or device.

Information about cookies is usually found in the "Help" section of the web browser.
